Cava Gran Reserva de l'Orgue 2006

This is a cava which carries the stamp of our winery and reflects the style of the indigenous varieties. Elegant, very fine, fresh and lingering on the palate with a harmonious mix of fruit aromas (ripe apples), and the creamy notes gained from its ageing (brioches, subtle toast) as well as balsamic aniseed hints.

Serving temperature:

8-10°

Food pairing:

Thanks to its long ageing, this cava will pair well with either meat or fish stews. Its creamy fresh character makes it a good match for all types of oven-baked fish or roasted meat.

Tasting notes:

A classic cava in which the wine's fruit character mingles harmoniously with creamy notes coming from its long ageing. Elegant, very delicate, fresh, full and intense, it suggests the harmony and depth of the sound of the organ.

Label:

The design of the label and the plaque were inspired from the original sketch made by the organ maker L. Scherrer in 1775. Each bottle has been personalised so that it carries the name of one of the organ pipes, which are also illustrated on the cylindrical case.

Grape varieties:

- Xarel·lo (40%)
- Macabeu (32%)
- Parellada (28%)
